Research Summary

This is where you can summarize ideas you have already, put your thoughts down. This will help you focus and better prepare you for the next stage of your project, problem statement, research question, and hypothesis. The more time you put into these beginning stages, the easier each piece that follows will be.

Research Topic:

Area What area of science does your topic/question fall through?
Problem Outline what the issue is.
Impact Who would benefit from a solution?
Ideas Do creative ideas or possible solutions already spring to mind?

Modified from Google Science Fair documents.